DEMPSEY WINS IN 3 ROUNDS

CHAMPION FAILS TO ANSWER
HEAVY BLOWS OF HIS CHALLENGER; THROWS UP SPONGE.

RINGSIDE, Toledo, July 4.—Jack Dempsey, in three bloody rounds during which the issue was never in doubt, attained the world's premier title by defeating Jess Willard. In the first round Dempsey sent home a body blow from which the big fellow never recovered. The gong alone saved him from defeat in this round, for with swollen cheeks, right eye closed Dempsey knocked him down or threw him helpless against the ropes seven times. Dempsey thought he had won when the gong sounded and had to be brought back into the ring.

Dempsey was the first to enter the ring. It was just three minutes to four. He chose the corner with the sun at his back. Big Bill Taw, the sparring partner, kept the sun off the challenger with an umbrella.

Willard came into the ring a minute later. The champion was also protected from the blazing sun by a big umbrella. Willard was seconded by Walter Monahan, Ike O'Neill, Jack Hempel and Ray Archer, his business manager.

Manager Jack Kearns was in charge in Dempsey's corner. He was assisted by Jack Malone, Jamaica Kid, "Denver" Jack Dyer, Bill Tate and Trainer Jimmy DeForest.

Archer examined the bandages on Dempsey's hand and watched Manager Kearns tie on the gloves. DeForest went to Willard's corner to inspect the bandages and tape and watched the gloves being tied on his hands. The officials were announced at 4 o'clock. Ollie Pecord of Toledo, the referee, was attired in a sleeveless shirt, blue trousers and a cap. He nervously chewed gum while waiting for the boxers to get busy.

They were called into the center of the ring at 4:07 to face a battery of photographers. After pictures were made Pecord discussed the rules with them, and they shook hands and returned to their corners.

Time was called at 4:09 1-2.

From the Arena.

RINGSIDE, July 4.—At 3:30 the crowd had stopped coming and the arena was apparently little more than half full. The last preliminary was still running. The attendance was estimated at around 40,000.

The first actual sign that the big event of the day impended came when workmen tossed a new mat into the ring to replace the one somewhat damaged by the preliminaries and by an exhibition of bayonet, pistol and knife practice by soldier experts, with Major Anthony J. Drexel Biddle, who was also one of the judges of the championship.

The thermometer stood at 115 degrees, but a puffy breeze gave occasional slight relief.

James L. McLaughlin of San Francisco, who constructed the arena, superintended workmen who went about the ring testing and tightening the ropes, smoothing the mat and sprinkling resin over its surface.

The crowd, practically to a man, moved into the nearer seats, where vacant, leaving practically two tiers of bleachers of the amphitheater vacant.

The clever boxing of Jack Malone of St. Paul, attracted some comment during his eight-round go with "Navy" Ralston of Joliet, Ill., at 146 pounds.

Ralston, dark, bullet-headed, face covered at all times, crouched like the assassin in a melodrama, while the blonde, upright, dancing young athlete from Minnesota, peppered him almost at will, meanwhile ducking the Joliet man's swings. The latter's head was low and corrugated and apparently he did not care what hit it.

"Get busy or I'll put you out of the ring," said the referee to Ralston. The latter grinned and showed his gold teeth and swung harmlessly.

Big Dirigible Nearing Shore But Needs Help

By the Associated Press
HALIFAX, N. S., July 5.—Admiralty station here was informed by wireless at 10:30 today, local time, that the big British dirigible R-34 was between Halifax and Canso. The exact position was not given, but she reported "All is well." Admiralty officials believe the ship is in dense fog off Nova Scotia coast and picking her way slowly.

By the Associated Press
WASHINGTON, July 5.—American destroyers Kalk and Bellard were ordered today to proceed toward Bay of Fundy to lend any required assistance to dirigible R-34 which reported herself fighting stiff head wind with gasoline getting low. Destroyers will put out from Boston with orders to establish communications with the dirigible as quickly as possible.

MINEOLA, N. Y., July 5.—R-34 will arrive at Roosevelt Field Sunday morning, according to a wireless message from Major Scott, commanding, received by Lieutenant Colonel Lucas, representing British Admiralty, and who is making reception arrangements.

GALLAMORE WINS IN FAT MAN'S RACE

Fred M. Gallamore, 223 pounds, won the fat man's race at the fair grounds yesterday over W. J. Coffman, weight 240.

The race was a 100-yard dash. Good time was made and the crowd cheered vociferously when the two fat men faced the scorching sun to make the race.

Mr. Coffman had to quit before the race was half over because of breaking a ligament in his left leg. He is suffering quite severely from this today.

MEMORIAL SERVICE POORLY ATTENDED

Although the crowd was very poor, Brigadier General Roy Hoffman of Oklahoma City delivered an inspiring oration in the big tabernacle on North Rennie yesterday afternoon.

General Hoffman did not arrive in Ada until about 3 o'clock. The crowd gathered at 2 according to the announcement of the meeting. The band played until 3 when they had to leave to play for the ball game, and many of the people fearing the speaker would not get here, followed the band which reduced the attendance more than half.

General Hoffman's speech was along patriotic lines. He told of the war and what it had meant to America and the world, explaining that we were better off mentally, financially and spiritually than we had ever been before. He laid special stress on the aid the war had been to the Christian religion.

Although the crowd of listeners to the general's talk was small, those who did come and stay and hear it were very enthusiastic and went away praising him for the fine oration he had delivered.

Roland Returns From Chickasha.

R. C. Roland returned yesterday from Chickasha where he has been assisting the defense in the preliminary hearing of Oscar Simpson, who was ousted from the office of county attorney by a grand jury some time ago. The trial consumed practically the whole week. It was heard by Paul Walker, who is referee of the state supreme court. The defense and prosecution were given 30 days in which to transcribe testimony for the case and thirty-five additional days to complete the briefs, after which the case will come to trial.

Mr. Roland says they have every reason to believe Mr. Simpson will come clear of the charges made against him.

CONSERVATIVES DECLARE FOR WAR

GERMAN CONSERVATIVE PARTY
SAYS IT WILL USE ITS WHOLE
STRENGTH TO RESTORE MONARCHY.

By the Associated Press
LONDON, July 5.—The German conservative party has just issued a proclamation, signed by the party's leader in the reichstag, Von Heydebrand, stating that the party "declares war on the German government, and intends to use every means and its whole strength to restore the monarchy," according to a Copenhagen dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company.

The monarchical tendencies are believed to be growing, and judging from the attitude of the conservative party leaders, as expressed in the foregoing proclamation, it is almost certain that internal troubles such as Germany has never before known are in store for the immediate future.

MAKES THE ACKNOWLEDGMENT WITH FULL KNOWLEDGE THAT HE MUST FACE TRIAL.

By the Associated Press
LONDON, July 5.—Field Marshal Von Hindenburg, former chief of the German general staff, has declared himself wholly responsible for the acts of the German headquarters during the war, and for the former emperor's proclamations concerning the manner of waging the war against the allies.

He asks, also, that President Ebert, of Germany, inform the allies to this effect.

This is the second German leader to assume responsibility and take the blame for Germany's misconduct and the criminal manner of her warfare since it became known that all Germans guilty of the warfare rules which she practised would be tried in the world's highest tribunal.

The first German leader to assume such responsibility was Von Bethman Hollweg, former chancellor.

With the possibility of trial for the responsibility of the war and execution as a consequence, the boldness of the German leaders is something unusual, to say the least.

It would appear from these confessions that the kaiser was in reality only the tool of his military masters, and that all the blame cannot, in justice, be laid at his door alone. What action will be taken by the allies looking to trial of those responsible for the war, and the many high crimes committed by them in violating all treaties and rules of warfare, has not yet been announced.

NEW GOVERNMENT ARISES IN PERU

NEW PROVISIONAL PRESIDENT
TAKES UP HIS RESIDENCE IN GOVERNMENT PALACE
AS RULER.

By the Associated Press
LIMA, Peru, July 5.—Augustus B. Leguia, late yesterday, assumed office as Peru's provisional president and took up his residence in the government palace as a result of the overthrow earlier in the day of President Pardo's government. Senor Pardo, his ministers and a number of army officials are already in prison. Virtually no casualties marked the revolt.

Senor Leguia is supported by virtually all of the army and naval forces and public opinion is apparently behind him. It is announced that ex-President Pardo will be placed on trial, charged with violations of the constitution.

By the Associated Press
WASHINGTON, July 5.—Two soldiers were killed and three, including a subordinate official, wounded, during the overthrow of President Pardo, of Peru, according to official dispatches to the state department from Lima.

Department's advices said that the revolution was due to reports that the government had made plans to deprive Senor Leguia of the office to which he was recently elected.

PLEASURE BOAT SINKS

By the Associated Press
MADISON, S. D., July 5.—Nine bodies were recovered from the wreck of the pleasure boat Lawrence here early today. The boat foundered forty rods from shore after striking a stump.

It was estimated that thirty-two persons were aboard the vessel when the accident occurred. Reports from Madison state that there are seven bodies still under the water.

OKMULGEE NEGROES WIN FROM ADA REDS

The ball game between the negro team of Ada and the Sluggers of Okmulgee which was played at the fair grounds just after the Ada-Atoka game, was won by the Okmulgee men by a score of 8 to 2.

The Okmulgee men made four runs in the first inning. The game was attended by several hundred white men and women, who remained over after witnessing the first game. It is impossible to describe the pranks of a negro ball game—you simply have to be present and hear the conversation to get the good out of it.

IS CITED FOR BRAVERY

By the Associated Press
OKLAHOMA CITY, July 5.—Private Joseph Oklahombi, 24-year-old Choctaw Indian, named in a special citation for his fighting record by the French General Petain, and just discharged from military service, has returned to his home near Wright, McCurtain county, Okla. His friends assert he probably holds the record next to that of Alvin York, the "fighting parson" of Tennessee.

Oklahombi, it is said, is credited with having captured a total of 171 Germans, with participation in fifty successful stormings of enemy machine gun nests, and with having crossed No Man's Land many times to secure information for the allied armies.

Peculiarly the returned soldier's name "Oklahombi" is the Choctaw word for "mankiller."

Ada Lost Game to Atoka By 3 to 0 Yesterday

The Ada players were taken into camp by the big men from Atoka in yesterday's game at the fair grounds by a score of 3 to 0.

The game was an interesting affair full of fast work on both sides, but the local men were unable to hit Perkins, the big Atoka pitcher, safely, garnering only three bingles, and bunting most of them in the seventh inning. Atoka got to Rutledge and Guy Young for seven hits and three runs.

Rutledge went five innings for the locals and only gave up one hit but the visitors took kindly to Young's slants, and touched him for seven hits additional. They bunched most of them in the seventh. The Ada men had the bases full in the eighth, but two men were already out and Roach undertook to come in home and was caught, retiring the side.

Batteries for Ada, Rutledge, Young and Kyser; for Atoka, Perkins and Camp.

The next game will be played with Byars at 3:30 p. m. tomorrow. Byars is reported to have a fast team and a good game is promised.

GREAT SERVICE PROMISED SUNDAY

DEAN SMITH OF SHAWNEE COLLEGE IS PRINCIPAL SPEAKER; STREETS WILL BE CLOSED.

Great preparations have been made for the services at the big Tabernacle tomorrow evening and it is expected to be the climax of the series of preliminary meetings that started a month ago. Visiting speakers from Shawnee, a great choir and plenty of good music will interest and entertain the big crowd that is expected on this occasion.

Most everybody in this section of the state has either heard Dean Smith of the Baptist University, speak, or have heard of his great ability along this line. It is definitely arranged that he will be the principle speaker at tomorrow night's service. His message will be a fitting opening for the great meeting which begins with the coming of Dr. Ham next Thursday, as it is an echo of the great revival which these same evangelists closed in Shawnee only a few weeks ago.

It will be the link which will join the Shawnee meeting with our own making the two one immense religious effort for this section of the state. Besides Dr. Smith, others from Shawnee will make short fraternal talks. It is not possible to announce the names of these speakers, but it is definitely arranged that two laymen at least will be here.

Miss Emma K. Keller of the Normal, as chairman of the music committee, will direct the music for this occasion. A great program has been arranged and will be carried out with the same precision and effectiveness as Miss Keller's programs usually are. It is expected that a choir of 300 singers will lead the congregation in song while other special numbers, solos and quartets, will be rendered.

The crowning feature of the service will be the immense crowd that will fill the pews at the largest Tabernacle ever seen in Ada. It is laid upon every church members in the town and surrounding country to see to it that at least one—himself or herself—is present and each is urged to pledge at least one non-church member to attend. If seventy-five per cent of these should be present, standing room about the shed would be at a premium. A hundred per cent, though, should not be too much to expect. If everybody boosts today and tomorrow, you will see something tomorrow night that you have never before seen in this town.

The Tabernacle Committee has made special police arrangements for the protection of cars. By order of the mayor, the streets immediately surrounding the Tabernacle will be closed after 8:15. Cars parked within this enclosure will be under close guard until the meeting is closed and the owners call for them. No one will be permitted to sit in their cars during the service and cars cannot be removed from the enclosure except under pressing circumstances. Every safe guard will be placed around the comfort of the congregation in this respect so that their attendance upon the service will be free from care and annoyance.

Entrance to the big shed can be had both on North Rennie and on Ninth street immediately back of the Waples-Platter Grocery company building.

The service will begin at 8 o'clock as will all the evening services of the Ham-Ramsay series.

Concrete Road Construction Going Ahead Under Full Speed—Many States in Line

Full speed ahead!
This is the slogan that is putting the pep in highway construction all over the country. Especially is this true of concrete construction.

A survey of recent concrete highway lettings discloses a marked tendency toward full speed ahead in roadwork. While the tendency was not so apparent even a month ago, it is no more than might be expected and bears out the repeated assertion of those qualified to speak from a definite knowledge of material costs that waiting for a drop in prices would result only in a waste of time and a shortening of the construction season, to the great disadvantage of the public at large.

Contractors who have permitted themselves to be affected by this policy of delay and who have as a result lagged in organizing their equipment and labor forces for the season's work will be surprised to learn the extent to which concrete road work is contracted for or already under way. The public at large also will be surprised to know that prices are not as high in bids offered and accepted as had been predicted on the part of those who have been advising against delay until some more convenient time. An analysis of the awards made show that the average prices range from $1.90 to $2.32 per square yard.

Awards in Many States.
Awards have been made for concrete roads in the District of Columbia, Connecticut, West Virginia, Georgia, Illinois, Indiana, Kansas, Kentucky, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, South Carolina, Virginia and other states.

The scope of territory reporting contracts shows that the resumption of highway work is not confined to any particular territory—hence based upon purely local conditions and necessities—but is, in fact, nationwide. The total yardage to date for the first three months of the year 1919 is approximately 3,500,000, more than three times the amount of yardage laid during the entire twelve months in 1909, when the concrete road construction first began to get under way.

Movement Impersonal One.

Also of great significance to the highway contractor is the fact that the movement for permanent hard-surfaced trunk line highways throughout the United States is an impersonal one. That is to say, it is primarily an economic force seeking an outlet to market that will not place such a heavy drain upon the product in transit as to lessen the net profits to the producer and increase the cost to the consumer by reason of excessive and altogether unnecessary hauling costs in reaching that market.

Viewed in this light, it will be seen at once that where townships, counties or states vote to bond for hard-surfaced highways, such action is the direct result of public demand organizing itself to put an end to waste in highway maintenance and at the same time release the motor-driven vehicle from the restriction of uneconomic road surfaces. This indicates an impersonal economic movement throughout the entire country, helped on by actual knowledge of relative costs and merits of different types of roads.

NO TAX DOING GOES SAYS POWERS

INCOME TAXES MUST BE PAID OR YOU SUFFER THE PENALTY. SAY THE OFFICIALS.

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 4.—"Tax dodgers may take warning by the eighteen months prison sentence imposed on William A. English and John H. O'Brien, Boston wool merchants, who pleaded guilty of conspiracy to defraud the government of federal income taxes," said Commissioner of Internal Revenue Daniel C. Roper today.

"It is and will be the policy of the bureau to pursue tax frauds relentlessly. This is the only course possible in justice to the man who honestly pays his share of the common levy."

"In the checking up of returns, evidence to show fraud will be followed by a thorough and complete investigation which, though it may require years, will be continued until the persons involved are brought to justice. In every case warranted by the facts the bureau will urge the imposition of the extreme penalty."

"Taxpayers who have not met their full tax requirements should not wait until discovery is made by a revenue officer. There is great difference between the self-discovered tax dodger or tax delinquent and the one discovered by our office. The time for compromise is before discovery by a government official."

"It is our determined policy that wealth shall not influence to prevent willful tax dodgers from going to jail. The big and financially able must be treated in the same way as the small willful violator, and hence compromises through money will be rejected."

"The Boston wool merchants, who it was alleged attempted to defraud the government out of about 95 per cent of tax due, started business in 1913 under the firm name of English and O'Brien. The business increased rapidly, largely on account of war conditions."

"As brought out by the court, in 1917 English and O'Brien filed returns showing a total partnership and individual tax of the two partners of $109,000. Upon investigation, it was found that the true tax of the partnership and the two individuals was $1,379,817.49. The defendants attempted to conceal their earnings by keeping two sets of books, and by making false entries in the books which they planned would be checked by revenue agents. They also falsified their inventory at the end of 1917 by approximately $1,000,000."

"When arrested English and O'Brien employed an able array of counsel, and endeavored by every device to escape punishment. Offers in compromise of more than $1,000,000 were suggested to the commissioner of Internal Revenue and refused."

"When arraigned the defendants pleaded guilty to a charge of conspiracy to defraud the United States, and represented to the court that the highest possible amount they could raise by borrowing and otherwise was $1,500,000, which, in addition to the amount already paid, they offered to pay if not sent to prison. They declared they would be able to raise but a small part of this amount if a prison sentence were imposed."

"A fine of $10,000 in addition to the prison sentence, was im-

THIS DRUGGIST WAS HONEST.

Some time ago I went into the drug store of Gerke Drug Co., Evansville, Ind., and the following conversation took place between Mr. Gerke and myself: "Theodore, how does it come that you sell so much more 'Number 40 For The Blood' than these other druggists around here?" Mr. Gerke answered: "A year or so ago my wife came into the store and said she was going to take a blood medicine. She looked over the kinds I had on the shelf and I reckon you put up the best 'spiel,' when she took a bottle of 'Number 40.' After taking it a while she gave it to our boy and one day I was complaining of 'that tired feeling' and she said, 'Here, I will dose you on 'Number 40.' And she did and it did me so much good I have been recommending it to my customers since and buy it in gross lots."—J. C. Mendenhall, 40 years a druggist, Evansville, Ind.

The ingredients entering into "Number 40" are set down in the U. S. Dispensary and other medical books as follows: "Employed in the diseases of the glandular system, in blood poison, scrofula, chronic rheumatism, catarrh, chronic constipation, stomach and liver trouble. Under its use sores, ulcers, nodes, tumors and swellings that have withstood all other treatment disappear as if by magic."—"Number 40" is sold by Gwin & Mays Drug Co.

Real Toys for Kiddies Again On Christmas

Tell this to the kiddies:
Kid dolls are to be really kid this year and not mostly clothed. Those fascinating, dainty, dollies of Jessie McCutcheon Raleigh will have real hair this season instead of painted tops.

Mechanical toys, young America's delight, "extinct" last year, are going to appear in greater quantity and variety than ever on this year's Christmas tree.

But rubber dolls and balls are scarce and the limp-limbed, china-headed dolls scarcer. And the bisque beauties will not be dressed in the style to which they have been accustomed, for they no longer have the benefit of the Paris fashions. They are American beauties now, and plainly clothed, if clothed at all. Because of the Oklahoma Council of Defense upon the buying of Christmas gifts, this state is preparing for an unprecedented rush for holiday goods this Christmas.

Wholesale toy dealers in Oklahoma will have their stocks ready by the last of the month, for "Do your Christmas shopping early" means the first of August to retail dealers in toys and holiday gifts.

Don't forget the name of the remedy you need when the stomach or bowels are disordered. Prickly Ash Bitters quickly corrects such troubles and makes you feel bright and cheerful. You should have a bottle at home all the time. It is the dose taken promptly that prevents sickness and expense. Price $1.25 per bottle. Gwin & Mays Drug Co., special agents.—Adv.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(By REV. F. B. FITZWATER, D. D.,
Teacher of English Bible in the Moody
Bible Institute of Chicago.)
(Copyright, 1919, by Western Newspaper Union.)

LESSON FOR JULY 6

CHURCH: ITS LIFE AND WORK.

LESSON TEXTS—Acts 2:1-4, 27-47; 1 Thess. 5:11-15.

GOLDEN TEXT—Christ also loved the church, and gave himself for it.—Eph. 5:25.

ADDITIONAL MATERIAL—1 Cor. 12:4-31; Eph. 1:15-23; 4:12-16; 6:25-27; Rev. 1:10-20.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Our Father's House.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Why We Should Love the Church.

INTERMEDIATE TOPIC—What the Church Does for Us and What We Should Do for the Church.

SENIOR AND ADULT TOPIC—The Spirit and Mission of the Church.

I. The Origin of the Church (Acts 2:1-4).

Fifty days after the passover, while the 120 men and women were "with one accord in one place" the Holy Spirit came upon them and baptized them into one body (1 Cor. 12:13). Thus was begun the body called the church. The church had its beginning at Pentecost. The believers were united around the resurrected Christ as head.

II. Conditions of Entrance Into the Church (Acts 2:37-41).

After the coming of the Spirit at Pentecost, Peter witnessed to the death and resurrection of Christ. Through this testimony the Spirit convicted these Jews of their sins. In their desperate need they cried out: "What shall we do?" Peter's reply indicated the steps into the church.

(1) Belief in Jesus Christ as Savior. His argument proved that Jesus whom they had crucified was the Messiah.

(2) Repentance. Every one entering the church should repent; should change his mind and attitude toward Jesus Christ.

(3) Be baptized. The divinely appointed method for the public confession of Jesus Christ is baptism. Those who have believed in Jesus Christ should receive this tangible ordinance, which symbolizes our identification with Christ in his death, burial and resurrection.

(4) Receive remission of sins. Those who have been united to Jesus Christ have all their sins removed; there is an entire cancellation of guilt. They have a standing before God which is absolutely perfect.

(5) Receive the Holy Spirit. The gift of the Holy Spirit is the birthright of every regenerated soul who is obedient to Christ.

III. A Portrait of the Primitive Church (Acts 2:42-47).

1. They continued in the apostles' doctrine (v. 42). Instead of being taught by the scribes they are now taught by the apostles. They have turned away from their blind guides and are following new ones.

2. They continued in fellowship around Christ as the head (v. 42). The breaking of bread illustrated the oneness of believers in Christ. As all partook of one loaf, so all believers are one in Christ.

3. They continued in prayer (v. 42). The ideal church is a praying church.

4. They had a community of goods (vv. 43-45). They had all things in common. Those that had possessions sold them and distribution was made to every one as he had need.

5. They were filled with praise (v. 46). All those who have had the experience of the life of God being poured into them are filled with praise, and gratitude must express itself.

IV. The Mutual Duties of Officers and Members of the Church (1 Thess. 5:11-15).

1. Mutual intercourse for comfort and edification (v. 11). There is no caste in the church of Jesus Christ; it is a brotherhood.

2. Proper recognition should be given to those who are engaged in spiritual service (v. 12). Only as the grace of God abounds do men and women turn from their secular to spiritual interests. Those who thus respond to the call of God should have popular recognition.

3. Proper respect should be given to church officials (v. 13).

While we should not give worship to those who are leaders in the church of Christ we should give them proper respect. One of the signs of the degeneracy of the age is a lack of respect shown Christian ministers.

4. Live in peace (v. 13). Although there is in the church a diversity of interests and personalities the love of Christ should so fill us that there be no strife in his body.

5. Warn the disorderly (v. 14). As Christ chose twelve and one was a devil, so in the church there will be those who are disorderly. All such should be lovingly warned.

6. Be not retaliative (v. 15). Although others wrong us we should not retaliate.

Growth.

Violent efforts to growth are right in earnestness, but wholly wrong in principle. There is but one principle of growth both for the natural and spiritual, for body and soul. And the principle of growing in grace is once more this. "Consider the lilies how they grow."

Take Second Look.

I am not one of those who do not believe in love at first sight, but I believe in taking a second look.—H. Vincent.

More Than Two Hundred Thousand Dollars Spent In Ford Libel Case to Date

The libel suit of Henry Ford against the Chicago Tribune, already has cost more than $200,000, and the end is not yet in sight.

These figures are a very conservative estimate, made after watching the case in court for more than five weeks.

The Tribune brought more than 25 witnesses from Texas and New Mexico, along the Mexican border. While on the stand one of these was asked about the arrangement with the Tribune, and swore that he was to get $10 a day for his time, and his expenses paid besides.

They were kept in Mt. Clemens, Mich., the place of the trial, for four weeks. They were given side trips to Niagara Falls and other places while waiting to testify. They like all others connected with the trial, put up at the best Mt. Clemens hotels, and Mt. Clemens has several first class ones that charge regular city rates, $3.50 a day for an ordinary room, $1.50 for a shirlin steak for one, and the like.

Figuring the railroad fare from the Mexican border to the Canadian border, the per diem, the expenses and the side trips a careful estimate would place the total of these witnesses alone at above $15,000, and they are only the beginning of the Tribune's testimony.

The expense of hunting them up, taking their statements, and arranging for their trips to Mt. Clemens was no small amount.

The editorial for which Mr. Ford is suing the Tribune appeared three years ago the twenty-third of this month. The suit was commenced shortly after that date, and the Tribune has been busy all the time since preparing for its defense. They called Mr. Ford an anarchist and strive to prove that conditions were such at the time that a man who was not in favor of extensive military preparations is an anarchist.

So these witnesses testify as to the conditions along the border, and it was no light task to get the right ones.

Lawyers have been working on the case almost continuously for the three years. Perhaps no greater preparation was ever made for a case than has been made by the Tribune, surely no greater for a libel case, and Mr. Ford's attorneys have been no less diligent.

There are always ten lawyers around the Tribune table in the court room, and seven at the Ford table. These comprise the men from two of the best firms in Detroit, several from Chicago and five local attorneys. No one imagines that any one of them gets less than $50.00 a day, and some get away above that.

Elliott G. Stevenson is always in court. He is the head of the Detroit law firm of Stevenson, Carpen Butzel and Backus. This firm handles most of the large corporation legal business of Detroit. One cannot think of his getting less than $300 a day for court practice and probably $500, besides a good retainer for his firm to begin with. Weymouth Kirkland and Horace K. Tenney, men of no small calibre, are the principal two of the Chicago attorneys on the Tribune side, with fees that are not small.

On the Ford side of the case is the firm of Lucking, Murphy, Helfman, Lucking and Hanlon, ranking with the Stevenson firm in Detroit. Former Congressman Alfred Lucking is the head of this firm. He is general counsel for Henry Ford and his interests, and has devoted most of his personal time to Mr. Ford's business for several years.

Judge Alfred J. Murphy has served in the Recorder's Court and Circuit Court as judge in Detroit for about 20 years. He had what was considered practically a life position at $10,000 a year, but resigned recently to enter the Lucking firm. He participates in the Ford trial, being a constant attendant in court. In fact, the first five weeks of the trial saw all four of the leading members of the firm of court all the time, they being Mr. Lucking, Sr., Judge Murphy, Mr. Helfman and Mr. Lucking, Jr. Mr. Lucking and Mr. Stevenson have fought each other in court for over thirty years, and contest every point for all it is worth.

You can get a fairly good idea of the general cost from one small item. That is the written reports of stenographers and typists to keep the stenographic report of the case up to the minute. Of about five minutes each. No hour goes by without having the case written up complete. For this they get 25 cents a page, where one report is taken, and 40 cents for two reports. At the end of the fifth week there was a total of 3,293 pages, and nine reports were being taken. I do not know how many were straight 25 cents, and how many two for 40 cents, but estimating them eight at the lower figure, 20 cents each, and the odd one at 25 cents, it brings the total cost of the reports up to $6,092.05 for the five weeks, with the case not half through yet.

Mt. Clemens hotels are reaping a small fortune out of the case. The Tribune has a large suite of rooms at one hotel for members of the Tribune staff and for the attorneys. Mr. Ford has a suite at another hotel for the legal staff and others connected with the case, and a suite of rooms at still another hotel used for offices from which place his various business interests are directed.

Mr. Ford is more fortunate than the Tribune in the matter of witnesses, as his had to come only from Detroit, being principally employees and their wives who testified that the Ford company took care of the families while the men were at war and gave the men their jobs back at their return.

The expense for jurors and court costs must of necessity run into several thousand dollars, which eventually will be added to the cost of one side or the other, but which is not figured in the above estimate.

The case was started first in the United States district court at Chicago, was shifted from there to Detroit and later from Detroit to Mt. Clemens, each step being fought in and out of court.

TEXAS SOLONS ASK WAR WITH MEXICANS

AUSTIN, Tex., July 4.—A resolution introduced by Senator Strickland urging the federal government to recognize a "state of war in northern Mexico," was adopted by the Texas senate yesterday with an amendment changing it to read "state of war and anarchy." The resolution commends Gov. W. P. Hobby for refusing to permit Mexican troops to pass through Texas and for his "foresight in anticipating trouble on the border," and for calling attention of the "federal authorities to the Mexican situation."

To Provide for Many Poor Little French Orphans

If you have dimes, prepare to spend them now! The Fatherless Children of France, an American organization which, since the beginning of the war, has co-operated with a similar one in France of which Marshal Joffre is head, is starting an active campaign to provide food and shelter for one year for 60,000 little war orphans of France. Mrs. Walter S. Brewster, of Chicago, vice-president of this organization, and chairman of this special campaign, says ten cents a day will provide for a child.

"In France, during the terrible day which preceded the arrival of our American boys," says Mrs. Brewster, who has just returned from a tour of the devastated regions of France under military escort, "over 200,000 little French children were left fatherless by the war, many of them absolutely homeless and destitute. The French government, straining its resources to the utmost, was able to grant a tiny pension of ten cents a day to each child, and a group of American men and women undertook to supplement this by an additional ten cents a day. There are still the names of 60,000 children on our records at Paris not yet cared for."

Like the little old lady who lived in a shoe, Mrs. Brewster might well complain that she has so many children she doesn't know what to do, as she has assumed the task of finding American godmothers for these 60,000 tragic little victims of the war. But quite unlike that ancient dame, Mrs. Brewster knows exactly what to do with her children.

"When one stops to realize," she says, "that just ten cents a day will make it possible to feed and clothe and shelter the destitute child of some man who died fighting for the safety of our world, there isn't any American man, woman or child who won't respond, so I'm not a bit worried about my 60,000 children. Those who can give a dollar and feed a child for ten days will do so; those who have a dime will send it to care for one hungry 24 hours; and there are hundreds of warm-hearted women and little children, I am sure, who will be eager to sign a pledge to care for a child for one year, choosing from our lists of children some little boy or girl as a godchild who will write to his American benefactor regularly and look to her as the one who has made his poor little life happy again. Every cent which comes in goes direct to the child. Our small expenses are borne by generous friends. To adopt a child, or to make a donation, large or small, write for information to Mrs. Walter S. Brewster, Room 634, 410 S. Michigan avenue, Chicago, with which office the local chairmen of The Fatherless Children of France, in every community, are co-operating."

"I don't need Peruna any more. I am all well. I have taken six bottles. I weighed ninety pounds before I started with Peruna. I was just as poor and so weakly. I had given up hopes of ever getting well; such a cough and spitting, and could not eat anything. Now since taking Peruna I weigh one hundred and thirty-five pounds. All my friends said I would never get well. I was just a shadow. I have surely recommended your Peruna to many of my friends, and they are using it. I will recommend Peruna, for I am so thankful for what it has done for me."

LEAVES BIG PRIVATE FORTUNE TO BRITISH

(By the Associated Press)

LONDON.—(By Mail).—Under the will of the late C. W. Wallace, an Indian merchant, $1,250,000 is left to the British government in the event of his sons failing to acquire "a baronetcy or superior title."

The testator's only surviving son, Captain W. W. Wallace, has not received a baronetcy and the executors are seeking to set aside the clause in the will on the ground that it is opposed to public policy. Such wills, they contend, embarrass officers of the Crown in the distribution of honors and induce other persons concerned to adopt improper means to obtain titles.

Mr. Wallace explained his conditional gift by saying in his will:

"I do this because I hold the view that, subject to the testator's right to make ample provision for his children, all possessions, great or small, if acquired from or through the people, as mine were, should return to the people. I am not acting fully up to this view in the case of my children, because the law does not enforce it upon all others."

RAILROAD COSTS SAID TO EXCEED THEIR INCOME

WASHINGTON, July 4.—The deficit incurred in operating railroads under government control during the month of May amounted to approximately $39,000,000, net operating income totaling $38,530,000, compared with rental obligation of the government to the railroads for May of $7,426,000 according to unofficial figures of railroad earnings for the month made public today by the bureau of railway economics. The May deficit, however, showed a decrease from the average monthly weight champion pugilist was easily worth a million dollars, has shrunk to $3,624.71. This was shown when the administrator of the estate applied to the probate court for a determination of the value of the property. It consists of 60 3/4 acres of land in Abingdon where John died, and two parcels in Port Grey, B. C. The court fixed the value of the realty at $3,200 and the personal estate at $424.71. John L. was noted as being a free spender and generous giver, but few dreamed that his once great wealth had so completely disappeared.

An increase of 75 per cent in the "basic cost of operation," during the first five months of 1915 compared with the average for the corresponding period during the three-year period of private control, was estimated.

"Alone in the dark with my daughter, sir!"

"How is it I catch you kissing her? How is it?" the father cried. And the lover was pleased.

ATTORNEYS PROSECUTE BOOZE VIOLATORS

WASHINGTON, July 4.—In line with the announced policy of the department of justice to proceed immediately to bring test cases in all jurisdictions where beverages containing more than one-half of 1 per cent of alcohol are being sold, Assistant Attorney General Frierison has issued orders to all district attorneys in "wet" territory to prosecute all cases thus arising.

Specific instructions were sent to the district attorneys of San Francisco and Chicago, where alleged violations of the war-time prohibition law had been reported, to act at once to have the courts there decide whether 2 1/2 per cent drinks are intoxicating.

SULLIVAN ESTATE HAS Dwindled to Nothing

BROCKTON, Mass., July 4.—It developed yesterday that the estate of the late John L. Sullivan, who died in his prime as the world's heavy-weight champion pugilist was easily worth a million dollars, has shrunk to $3,624.71. This was shown when the administrator of the estate applied to the probate court for a determination of the value of the property. It consists of 60 3/4 acres of land in Abingdon where John died, and two parcels in Port Grey, B. C. The court fixed the value of the realty at $3,200 and the personal estate at $424.71. ITCH!

A WAR-TIME ILL THAT'S SPREADING
HUNT'S SALVE CURES IT!

BRED in the war trenches of Europe, a wave of ordinary ITCH is spreading over the country. This skin disease, history shows, has always prevailed, following wars and the concentration of armies. It was common during the Civil War and following that conflict. There was an epidemic of the Itch after the Spanish-American War. Now history is repeating itself after the great European struggle.

Returned soldiers and those with whom they come in contact will find a recognized remedy for the Itch in Hunt's Salve, commonly known as "Hunt's Itch Cure." Many a veteran of the late war will testify to its merits. If directions are followed, HUNT'S SALVE will prove a never failing cure for all forms of the Itch, and your druggist will tell you so. He sells HUNT'S SALVE under a strict guarantee to refund the purchase price to any dissatisfied user.

A Medford, Oklahoma man, among thousands who praise HUNT'S SALVE, says:

"Some people dislike to call it the Itch, but candor compels me to admit I had it badly. Your Hunt's Salve, however, cured me after many other remedies had totally failed. I am now completely cured. My advice to those who have to scratch, is to use Hunt's Salve."

Hunt's Salve is especially compounded for the treatment of Itch, Eczema, Ringworm, Tetter and other itching skin diseases and is sold on our guarantee by all reliable drug stores, or it will be sent direct by mail if your local druggist cannot supply. Price 50c per box.

Methodist Notices.

Wallace M. Crutchfield, pastor.

Meet your friends at the Methodist Sunday school next Sunday morning at 9:45. We will make it worth your time. Your help will make it possible for us to make our Sunday school grow even during the heated season. At the close of the lesson period the pastor will give a brief sermon to the Junior congregation.

Rev. S. Crutchfield, the pastor's father, will preach at the morning service. He is remembered by multitudes of our people and loved by all who met him during his former visit. He will bring us the truth of the gospel.

Dean Smith and a group of laymen from Shawnee will speak in the big tabernacle at the evening service. All the churches will dismiss their meetings and we will gather at eight at the tabernacle to participate in a great dedicatory service. There will also be thrilling music under the leadership of Miss Keller.

The Community Prayer meeting for the coming week will be held at the tabernacle.

Corner S. Broadway and 14th. Junior Christian Endeavor at 9 a. m. in charge of Misses Alberta Chaffin and Geraldine Hale.

Sunday school at 9:45 a. m., Dr. J. M. Gordon, Superintendent.

Morning worship at 11 o'clock. The sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be observed in this service and the pastor will deliver a short sermon on "Hand Religion." All members should be present in this service; all others will be welcome to honor our Lord with us.

Christian Endeavor at 7 p. m. led by Miss Jeanette Bobbitt. All Endeavorers are urged to be present promptly for just a short service. Important matters will be considered in the meeting. There will be no evening service in this church. We are uniting with the other churches of the city in the dedicatory service of the tabernacle on Ninth and Rennie preparatory to the Ham-Ramsay evangelistic campaign. All our members are urged to attend this service and to lend their aid to make the campaign a success in every way. Ada's greatest religious opportunity should be heartily supported; don't you think so? May we count on you to help make Ada as great religiously as she is commercially?

Community Prayer meeting Wednesday at the tabernacle at 8:00 o'clock. Let's make the last meeting of the series the "best yet."

The evangelistic campaign will begin Thursday evening with Dr. Ham bringing the message and Mr. Ramsay directing the song service. All our singers are urged to assist in making the choir a success.

There is always a hearty welcome in the services of our church. May we have the pleasure of your presence next Sunday morning?—Geo. Wesley Beck, minister. Residence, 107 E. 14th. Telephone 232.

Men's Bible Class.

The Men's Bible Class of the First Presbyterian church will meet Sunday morning at 9:45 with Hon. Luther Harrison as teacher. The lesson will be a timely one for the present day consideration and the session of the class will be inspiring. May we count on you to touch elbows with us in our efforts to have a higher type of manhood? Why not study the Word of God with us and have the inspiration of the fellowship of men? You will get a hearty welcome and we believe you will find the class really worth while.—Ed Gwin, President. L. A. Forster, Secretary.

ADA MAN'S DEATH IS UNDER PROBE

A CHICAGO DOCTOR HAS ALSO BEEN REPORTED MURDERED BY MEXICANS AT COLIMA.

NEW YORK, July 4.—Reports of the murder on June 17 by Mexican bandits of John Mantellero, employed by Dr. Albert J. Ochener of Chicago on his plantation in the state of Colima, Mexico, have been sent the Italian ambassador of Mexico City and the state department at Washington, the Association for the Protection of American Rights in Mexico, announced here tonight.

The association's executive committee today took action on the alleged murder of John W. Carroll of Ada, Okla., the attempted murder of his 16-year-old son and the assault on Mrs. Correll by bandits, within twenty miles of Tampico on June 16.

Private advices to the association from Mexico City yesterday stated that the Mexican government has ordered all traffic suspended on the Tehuantepec railway and the Inter-Oceanic railway between Vera Cruz and Mexico City.

SHALL ADA HAVE A REAL BAND NOW?

a good band. By bandmen is not meant in this connection young beginners who have had no experience and little training, but men who have had from five to thirty years experience in band work.

This material is largely going to waste in Ada when a little expenditure of money and interest would make it a very great asset to the town. There are twenty or twenty-five real musicians here who will gladly donate their services to the right kind of an organization. These men are capable of building a first class musical organization. All they need is a leader and a small amount of equipment.

The present method of "picking up a bunch" upon occasion is not satisfactory either to the bandmen or to the crowd, nor can they consistently ask any one of their number to lay down his business to undertake the direction and management of the band and the men themselves feel that they have done their share when they have donated their time and their talent.

It is not as it is in the case of beginners who are receiving instruction in return for their outlay. These men are already musicians and need a director not an instructor. They, in reality, are donating their services and ability as players to the booster interests and feel that it is not too much for the town to provide a man capable of taking this talent and making a real band of it.

This matter ought to be taken up at once so that the warm evenings of the summer and fall may be enlivened with good music. Other expressions through the paper would not be amiss. Let's hear from you.—A. L. Fentem.

To Polish Shoes.

The Englishman's shoes, or "boots," are the best looking seen on the feet of any race. The reason for this is that the Englishman puts trees in his shoes, which are polished with the leather thus smoothed out. The softening polish, if applied while the shoe is on the foot, as is usual in America, creases the leather into the shape of the foot and the shoe loses its smooth effect. Trees, which add to the long life of shoes, are inexpensive and should be put in the shoes every night. If you polish your own shoes, try polishing them when on trees. You will be pleased with the result.

AFTER FORTY-ONE YEARS.

The adoption by the United States Senate of the resolution submitting the woman suffrage amendment to the states for ratification ends a congressional fight for the recognition of the political equality of women that has lasted forty-one years. The Susan B. Anthony amendment was first introduced in 1878. It reads now as it did then:

"The rights of citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any state on account of sex.

"The Congress shall have power, by appropriate legislation, to enforce the provisions of this article."

At the last session the senate refused to pass the resolution by a single vote, although the house adopted it by precisely the two-thirds vote necessary.

The final vote in the senate was 56 in favor and 25 against. The upper house therefore gave two more than the required two-thirds vote, while in the house the other day there were 42 votes to spare.

The Republicans have the honor of having given the preponderance of support to the suffrage resolution in both houses. In the senate 36 Republicans voted for it and 6 against it; while 20 Democrats voted for it and 17 against it.

The next problem that confronts the cheerfully indefatigable suffrage leaders is that of ratification. Thirty-six state legislatures must give their approval before the amendment becomes effective. The suffragists are naturally anxious that all the women of the country shall be able to vote at the presidential election next year. Whether that will come about or not will depend on whether enough states will have special sessions of their legislatures to make up the necessary total.

In any case a vigorous campaign is to be undertaken by the suffragists with the slogan, "Extra sessions and immediate ratification." Except in the minds of some case-hardened opponents of any extension of political equality to women there is no question that ratification will come ultimately. The tide is setting that way with an irresistible sweep. Already in 28 states women vote either for state officers or for president or for both. The forward charge is over; the enemy's main trenches are taken. It only remains to "mop up."

THE PUBLISHED TREATY.

All that fuss about printing the peace treaty seems to be in vain. No sooner did the senate get a copy printed in the Congressional Record than it proved to be obsolete, owing to revisions made in negotiations at Paris.

The only treaty that can be taken as possessing any authority or finality is the treaty that will be submitted to the senate officially by the president, according to the usual procedure, when the negotiations have been concluded.

Their activity might have been more effective, and would certainly have been more logical, if it had been directed to persuading the president to share with the senate more fully not the temporary and unofficial text of the treaty, but the substance of it and the general trend of the settlement. Nothing less than this was expected from the president's own promise to congress before his departure.

As matters stand, the senate and the president both seem to have made mistakes about the matter.

Five hundred women orators are going to speak from the stump in the next New York campaign. And if we knew how many women there are in New York state, we could tell, by a simple process of subtraction, how many women are going to do their share of speaking elsewhere.

The Federation of Labor wants the peace treaty ratified. Big business interests want it ratified. Nearly all the "church people" seem to want it ratified. A lot of big republicans want it ratified. In such a situation, what is the senate going to do?

When Victor Berger, the Socialist-congressman, calls the League of Nations "a league of the strongest robbers," he pays it too much honor. When it comes to robbery, his beloved Germany takes the prize.

Secrets when revealed are usually found unimportant after all, and so it is with the much-debated secrets of the peace treaty.

THE CALL OF DUTY

By NAOMI H. ANDERSON

When Uncle Sam began sending his telegraphic messages to every city and hamlet of the country that stenographers and typists were needed in Washington, Ann Rogers saw them printed in the daily news, read them, wondered if she ought to offer her services, and then forgot them, for her daily tasks, at Burr & Marchant's seemed quite sufficient for the sum total of her existence, and for three months she ignored Uncle Sam's constant and urgent appeals. But one day, when one of the stenographers came in and calmly announced that she was going to Washington, Ann Rogers took up the newspapers again, read and reread Uncle Sam's appeals, and finally decided to follow in the footsteps of the former stenographer.

Two months later, having followed the call of "The Great Adventure" (as she called it), she was happily ensconced in one of the offices of the war department busily checking names of applicants for one of the branches of the war service, despite the fact that Burr & Marchant's had offered her a larger salary if she would have remained, and quite unaware that beside her an officer, whom she had hardly noticed, would be a great participator in her "Great Adventure," and forthwith treated him with deliberate unconcern. But the days stretched on to weeks, and each day the officer by her side began to loom up of greater and greater interest on the horizon of her happy existence. Finally she admitted even to her co-workers that she thought he was awfully nice; and the days slipped by.

Three months later an order came from the adjutant general's office, ordering First Lieutenant Downs to go to camp, and there he would be assigned to some company for early overseas duty. Ann had known for some weeks that the order was coming through, but the days chased each other so sublimely that she did not realize what the order would mean to her until it came. But when she read the order that within three days he was to report to his commanding officer, she knew. The three days dragged by—they no longer flew—and the nights were an eternity of tears and prayers; but on the morning of the last day when the first lieutenant said good-by, Ann was smiling, and for all the world none would have guessed at the tears and prayers. The week following his departure dragged through its course, but the brightness and novelty of the throbbing, crowded city had died for Ann.

One afternoon when a letter arrived from Mr. Marchant asking if Ann would not come back to her old position, she dispatched an immediate reply to the effect that she would be back in three weeks. The next day she handed in her resignation.

"Oh, she's got the blues on account of a sweetheart back home," confided the sergeant to the corporal, but Captain Downs knew, and accepted her resignation.

On the morning that she presented herself at the office of Burr & Marchant she found a beautiful bunch of red roses in a vase on her desk, and attached to them was a card bearing Mr. Marchant's name. It occurred to her then he was a bachelor, and she asked herself, "Is it possible?" but soon forgot the question in the busy examination of her old desk and typewriter. Later when Mr. Marchant came in she shook hands with him and thanked him for the roses.

"Are you glad to be back in this smoky city?" he teased.

"It's the best city in the world," she rejoined, laughing.

Again the weeks began slipping by, but Mr. Marchant was quick to notice that the happy laughter in Ann's eyes was gone.

"You ought to take a vacation," he told her one day. "You seem so tired."

"Oh, I'm not tired," she quietly replied.

"Then, have a doctor."

"Why?" and her eyes widened.

"You'll be having a nervous breakdown before you know it," he said.

"Why, there's nothing the matter with me, or, perhaps it's just a little touch of the blues," she smiled. But she did not go to a doctor.

A few days later when Marchant was watching her he saw a soft light in her eyes, and the doubt in them seemed to have vanished. And he said to himself, "He has written to her."

He talked to her of the transports loaded with troops arriving daily, and what a fine thing it was that the war was over, but all he could get out of her was her quiet, "I am so glad," and he knew that it was not the brand of gladness for her.

And one morning she came in radiant. There was a buoyancy to her step, such a shining brightness in her eyes that it electrified the whole office staff, and Mr. Marchant, watching her, said to himself, "He has come back, and she had to go to Washington—it was destiny." He did not stay in the office that day. He went out and walked for miles, and finally too tired to walk back took a taxi home, ever voicing his prayer, "Oh, I hope she will be happy," but had he seen Ann at the moment that he was entering his room, and had he seen the look in the eyes of the man in uniform, he would have realized that Ann's happiness was complete.

Stuart Star: Good streets and sidewalks are an absolute necessity in a good town. To have a good town it is necessary to have co-operation among the business men and citizens, all working in harmony for the upbuilding of the town and community. To work in harmony each one must be prepared to make more or less sacrifice of his individual ideas, for no one man idea can keep a town or community harmonious. All must give and take, as it were. The object sought is to make a better town, and as in a multitude of counsel there is safety, the solution lies in really and truly counseling together, every man prepared to adopt the idea or ideas best calculated to obtain the results desired.

Oklahoma City Times: General von Hindenburg is now busy telling how willing he is to be shot at sunrise or some such early hour, if the allies deem him a criminal. More than one outrage of the war can be traced to von Hindenburg. He is one of a considerable number of Huns, who should be summarily dealt with for atrocities which served no military purpose, and were in violation of all the rules of war. Like other Huns in high places, he is now playing for sympathy, and may get it, the people forget so readily, but he certainly isn't entitled to sympathy.

Pavement Pickups

Mrs. A. Wormington went to Roff this afternoon for a week-end visit.

Captain Chas. Orr went to Sulphur this afternoon for a week-end visit.

Mrs. W. W. Hensley went to Holdenville this morning for the week-end visit with friends and relatives.

Miss Edna Todd of the Stevens-Wilson store left this afternoon to spend her vacation in Fort Worth.

Mrs. Lue Jones of Sasakwa returned to her home this afternoon, after having visited her sister, Mrs. M. M. Morrison.

L. George, manager of the express office, left today for Honey Grove, Tex., to bring his family to Ada to make their home.

Mr. and Mrs. R. K. Ridding and little daughter, Janette of Clarita, Oklahoma, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Emory yesterday.

Mrs. E. D. Cathey and children of Granfield, Okla., arrived this morning for a visit with her sister, Mrs. R. L. Sanders and family.

Miss Cleo Hattox of Fitzhugh, who is student at E. C. S. N., returned here this morning after having spent the Fourth at Sulphur.

R. E. Nix of Nagle's Tailor Shop, returned this morning from Shawnee where, from all appearances, he spent a perfectly sober and sane Fourth.

W. K. Chaney returned this morning from a business trip to Chickasha, and there was no evidence of his having spent other than a somber sober Fourth.

Misses Reba and Grace Shelton, Vera MacMillan and Kathleen Hill of St. Louis motored to Sulphur, Friday with J. P. Hill and family in celebration of the Fourth.

Misses Consuela and Roselle Pirtle from Durant, who have been here visiting Miss Emma Ligon, returned to their home today. Miss Ligon gave a Fourth of July house party yesterday and Misses Pirtle was among the guests.

Brown-Starbuck.

One of the prettiest weddings of the season took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Starbuck Thursday evening at 8:30 when their charming daughter, Macy, was united to Mr. Allen Brown.

The house was beautifully decorated with pot and cut flowers suitable for the occasion. After the ceremony the guests were served with refreshments.

After the ceremony the guest was served with refreshments.

Mrs. Brown is a very popular young lady and her friends are numbered by the score and for some time past she has held the position of assistant at Stall's studio.

Mr. Brown is a young man of sterling worth and well worthy of the bride he has won. He is a man of good habits and is employed by the Dodge Agency as mechanic.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown went to Oklahoma City for a day or two, intending to return to Ada Sunday.

GLAD TO TESTIFY

Says Watoga Lady, "As To What Cardui Has Done For Me, So As To Help Others."

Watoga, W. Va.—Mrs. S. W. Gladwell, of this town, says: "When about 15 years of age, I suffered greatly... Sometimes would go a month or two, and I had terrible headache, backache, and bearing-down pains, and would just drag and had no appetite. Then... it would last... two weeks, and was so weakening, and my health was awful.

My mother bought me a bottle of Cardui, and I began to improve after taking the first bottle, so kept it up till I took three... I gained, and was well and strong, and I owe it all to Cardui.

I am married now and have 3 children... Have never had to have a doctor for female trouble, and just resort to Cardui if I need a tonic. I am glad to testify to what it has done for me, so as to help others."

If you are nervous or weak, have headaches, backaches, or any of the other ailments so common to women, why not give Cardui a trial? Recommended by many physicians. In use over 40 years. Begin taking Cardui today. It may be the very medicine you need.

Play Houses

At the Liberty.

Besides giving all the very latest current events and a funny L-KO Comedy the Liberty program will give the regular Saturday installment of the Red Glove, picturing the charming Marie Walcamp.

All next week there will be a splendid Musical Comedy company, The Ragtime Wonders. This is a feature of the Liberty programs that is, alike, enjoyable to old and young.

At the American.

The American is showing to-night charming and vivacious Marguerite Fisher in that very entertaining picture "Charge It to Me."

This is a five act comedy drama and Miss Fisher is a star and her work is especially adapted to this kind of a role. The theatre is cool and comfortable and you will enjoy the program.

Real Geniality.

The inborn geniality of some people amounts to genius.—E. P. Whipple.

A False Report.

Some wag has started another false report about the Ham-Ramsay revival organization, stating, in substance, that when the meeting starts nobody will be allowed to go in or out of the tabernacle after 8 p. m.

The tabernacle committee have, for precautionary reasons plain to any sensible person, ruled that automobiles shall not be allowed to come in or go out of the parking grounds after 8:15. This rule is as much for the protection of auto owners as it is for the purpose of preventing the services from being disturbed.

VETERANS AND SONS WILL MEET SUNDAY

Sunday is the regular meeting day of the Confederate Veterans, their sons and daughters. They will meet at the city hall at 2:30 p. m.

The Veterans urge a large attendance for the meeting Sunday. They expect to take up at this time the coming State Reunion in August, and ask the people to come out and help to complete the arrangements for this convention so it may be made a grand success.

The State Reunion met at Altus last year. The attendance at that time was good, but nothing like the crowd expected at Ada this year. It is expected that several hundred of the old vets will come to Ada and the town is expected to put on the gala attire that will make the occasion long remembered. Come to the city hall Sunday.

THE TOWN GOSSIP

By MILTON LESTER

IT CERTAINLY is funny.
HOW PEOPLE.
WILL CHANGE.
IN LITTLE or no time.
AND I know.
A FELLOW.
WHO USED to be.
ALWAYS HOWLING.
ABOUT THE way.
SOME OF the folks.
WHO OWNED automobiles.
DROVE AROUND.
WITHOUT ANY regard.
FOR OTHER folks.
AND I remember.
ONE DAY.
HE AND I.
WERE WALKING along.
TOGETHER and a car passed us.
AND SPATTERED
SOME MUD on him.
AND HE cursed.
FOR ABOUT half an hour.
OVER IT.
AND SWORE.
THAT HE would make.
THE DRIVER.
PAY FOR damages.
AND HERE not long ago.
HE BOUGHT a car himself.
AND HE seems.

TO BE getting.
AN AWFUL LOT of fun.
AND THE other day.
I WAS walking along.
AND IT had been raining.
AND THE streets were muddy.
AND HE came along.
IN HIS automobile.
AND HE "honked."
AT THE corner.
JUST AS I was getting ready.
TO CROSS over.
AND I had to jump back.
AND HE whizzed by.
AND THE mud.
SPLOshed ALL over.
MY TROUSERS.
AND HE TURNED around.
AND WAVED his hand.
AND GRINNED.
AND I have.
MADE UP my mind.
THAT WHEN I get.
AN AEROPLANE.
I'M GOING to delight.
IN FLYING.
OVER HIS car.
AND DROPPING.
BAGS OF mud in it.
I THANK you.

Let's Americanize America

EIGHT AND A HALF MILLION persons in the United States over 10 years of age cannot read a newspaper, billboard, car card, sign, booklet or letter in the American language. Five and a half million of them cannot read anything in any language.

These astounding facts demand the immediate consideration of the nation. The war has demonstrated some of the dangers from large numbers of foreign-born persons who have not been assimilated or Americanized. It has also brought to light thousands upon thousands of native-born Americans who cannot read or write.

These illiterates and aliens outnumber all the people in Nevada, Wyoming, Delaware, Arizona, Idaho, Mississippi, Vermont, Rhode Island, North Dakota, South Dakota, Oregon, Maine, Florida, Connecticut and Washington combined. They exceed the total population of the Dominion of Canada. As voters, their ballots will outweigh the influence of greater New York, Philadelphia and Chicago in national affairs.

Such people must be educated at least sufficiently to read the Constitution of the United States and American newspapers and to know something of what it means to be an American.

This problem is national. The south leads in illiterates. The north leads in non-English speaking. Seventeen and one-fourth per cent of the people of the east south central states are illiterates, but 15.8 per cent of the people in Passaic, New Jersey, cannot read, speak or write English. Sixteen per cent of the people of the south Atlantic states are illiterates and so are 13.2 per cent of the people of Lawrence and Fall River, Massachusetts.

These civic and economic "seconds" are beyond all help from printed warnings or advice in the English language. Their ignorance and inaccessibility to essential public information are constant drags upon progress.

The Secretary of the Interior has graphically painted the situation by the nationally accusatory questions he has asked in his recent letter to the president:

What should be said of a world-leading democracy wherein 10 per cent of the adult population cannot read the laws which they are presumed to know?

What should be said of a democracy which sends an army to preach democracy wherein there was drafted out of the first 2,000,000 men a total of 200,000 men who could not read their orders or understand them when delivered, or read the letters sent them from home?

What should be said of a democracy which calls upon its citizens to consider the wisdom of forming a league of nations, of passing judgment upon a code which will insure the freedom of the seas, or of sacrificing the daily stint of wheat or meat for the benefit of the Roumanians or the Jugo-Slavs when 18 per cent of the coming citizens of that democracy do not go to school?

What should be said of a democracy which permits tens of thousands of its native-born children to be taught American history in a foreign language—the Declaration of Independence and Lincoln's Gettysburg speech in German and other tongues?

What should be said of a democracy which permits men and women to work in masses where they seldom or never hear a word of English spoken?

A bill before congress directs the secretary of the interior through the bureau of education to co-operate with the several states in the education of the above-mentioned peoples and in the preparation of teachers for the work and appropriates money for the work.

A state, to secure the money, acts through its chief school officer and shall not participate until it has required the instruction of illiterates and non-English speaking minors more than 16 years of age, in the American language, for at least 200 hours per year.

Federal money shall be used only for salaries or training teachers and no federal money shall be used for buildings or equipment or for support of religious or private schools.

Each state receives money in proportion to the number of her illiterates and persons unable to speak English as compared to the total number of such persons in the United States.

The other provisions of the act concern details of administration.

These 8,500,000 when taught to read will be an immense new market for every form of merchandise. They will mean 8,500,000 new readers of newspapers, periodicals, farm journals, books in general and advertisements of manufactured products. At present they can't make use of any product of the printer's labor. They can't read even a moving picture title or a Victory Loan poster.

The elimination of illiteracy means the elimination of falsified merchandise and the reduction of cheating by manufacturers and retailers who rely upon illiterate groups for their main support.

Secretary Lane has said:

It takes a brave and very ambitious man to lift himself out of such an environment. Easily he becomes a victim to the shrewd, predatory padrone or boss. He falls into debt and becomes mortgaged to ignorance and squalor for years. His ideal of America has suffered a change. "And is this freedom?" he says to himself, as with tired back he bends to his work, without hope that the burden will be lighter tomorrow. He cannot read the signs which warn him of danger. He cannot read of the opportunities which city and country offer. In his own land perhaps he is too tired, too hesitant to learn this strange, difficult tongue. Is it any wonder if to this dissatisfied stranger the voice of one who speaks to him in the language of home has authority and carries far? And if this voice preaches a discontent and violent discontent, as the one sure path to better days, is it strange that he should listen? Who are the men who master this new world? Plainly the ones he knows, from whom he has suffered. Do these same men control everything; are there no sweet places of refuge? He can find no one to make him see the greater America. The whole of this content is to him the cramped apartment, the dirty street, and the sweatshop or the factory. To the sweep of the great land and its many beckonings his eyes are closed. And in his isolation and ignorance and disappointment there is fruitful nesting place for all the hurtful microbes that attack society.

From every humanitarian and business viewpoint, it is of the utmost importance to all with messages, educational or commercial, that these eight and a half millions be taught at least sufficiently to read a poster or a newspaper.

Where Wheat, Corn and Cotton Grow in the Same Field; Where Cattle in Great Herds Graze Upon a Thousand Hills; Where the Oil Spouts From the Earth in Many Valleys, and the People and Banks Have Money to Burn!

THE CITY OF ADA

Is the Railroad, Industrial and Educational Center of Southern Oklahoma and the County Seat of Pontotoc County.

STREET SCENES IN ADA

ADA has the largest cement manufacturing plant in the world; one of the largest glass manufacturing plants in America; three main lines of railroad; cotton oil mill; compress; ice plant; gins; stores; garages and other lines of business galore, BUT THERE IS ROOM FOR MORE!

The city gets its water supply from an artesian spring which bubbles in all its purity from the mountain side twelve miles away, which makes it one of the healthiest cities in the whole state of Oklahoma.

In close proximity to the city is an inexhaustible supply of natural gas; oil wells are being brought in daily; we have glass sand, lime, brick and cement shale to last for generations, and a great deposit of asphalt for paving and other purposes.

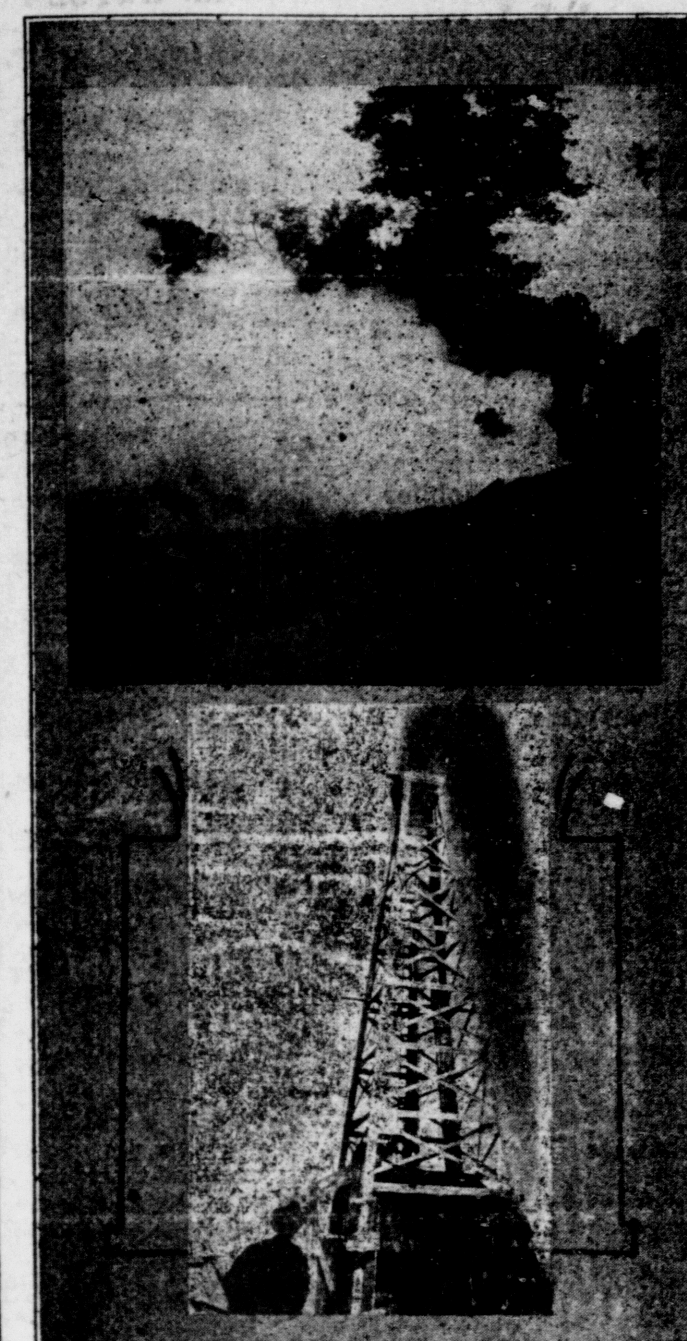

Ada has the East Central State Normal, one of the best educational institutions to be found anywhere, high school, four ward schools and bonds voted for another. Practically all the religious denominations are represented and the moral atmosphere is all that could possibly be desired. We have a modern hospital and all other conveniences found in any up-to-date city and it was all acquired in the short span of eighteen years.

Ada is the county seat of Pontotoc county, one of the richest agricultural and mineral counties in the state, and ere long is to erect a county court house second to none in the state.

Providence has smiled abundantly and profusely upon this section, and nature has provided us with every natural resource that man could desire.

AMERICAN OIL & REFINING CO. WELL NO. 1 (HAMPTON FARM) AND SAME WELL ON FIRE.

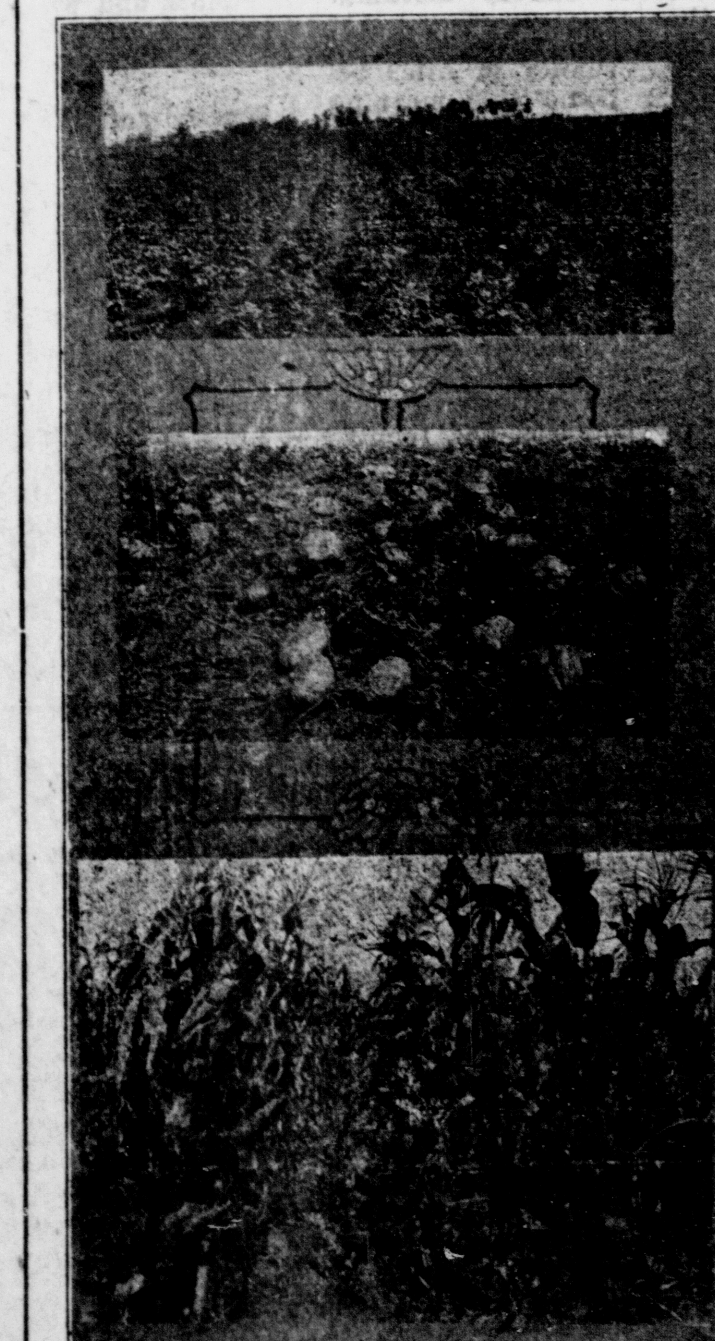

Pontotoc County Agriculturally Speaking

Pontotoc County, of which Ada is the County Seat, is the most diversified county in the State agriculturally. The rainfall is around thirty-five inches a year. Corn grows from thirty to sixty bushels an acre. Cotton averages more than a half bale to the acre and the maximum yield of the state in 1915 was near Ada. Peanuts, Sweet Clover, Alfalfa, Sorghum, Kafir Corn, Milo Maize, Sudan, Millet, Fruits, Garden Crops, Water Melons, Cantaloupes, and a host of other crops thrive. The northern part of the county is composed of a sandy loam, suitable for Sweet potatoes, Peanuts, Cotton and Millet. From Ada south is black land for Corn, Cotton and the various pasture grasses. In the extreme southern part are rolling prairies which have never been broken. Here the finest ranches in the state can be found.

The livestock industry is improving. More than five hundred head of registered cattle have been brought into the county within the last six months. Registered hogs are numerous. Home-owners are out of debt and prosperous.

The poultry products of the county alone each year run close to $1,000,000.

Much of the land is for sale at a fair price. For the man of moderate means looking for a larger farm or for an opportunity to deal in livestock, this county offers wonderful opportunities.

AGRICULTURE IN PONTOTOC COUNTY

More Industries Needed!

AND because more industries are needed this page in the News is addressed to the stranger in other states. The News finds its way to the congested centers of the East, and it is to the manufacturers of the East that we are turning in an effort to arouse them to the wonderful opportunities awaiting them in God's great outdoors in Oklahoma, the most lavishly blessed state in the Union for natural resources and opportunities.

We need cotton mills; shoe factories; shirt and overall factories; harness factories; packing houses; smelters, and a dozen and one other factories and industrial institutions that appreciate being close to the raw material, appreciate the advantages of natural gas at cheap rates for fuel, and where labor can be had at reasonable rates.

Why not leave the maddening throngs of the congested centers? Why not come where the turmoil and strife of labor wars are unknown? Why not get in touch with the wide, wide world, where people breathe easy and enjoy the bounties of life as God intended they should?

Ada has factory sites to give away to the right kind of industries; we have propositions to offer men in every line of business and in all walks of life; we welcome competition, rather than fear it, and the latch string is always on the outside.

Ada has a Lions' Club and a live Chamber of Commerce with a paid secretary, whose duty it is to inform you of all the facts you would naturally like to have were you seeking a new location. If you want more information about this city, county and state, write the secretary, Mr. O. N. Walker, and the information will be forthcoming. Do it today, lest you forget!

OLD NEWSPAPERS.

Are a most convenient thing to have around the house. They are good for wrapping bundles, starting fires and a hundred and one other things. The News gets hundreds of exchanges, and after these are examined here in the office they are tied into bundles of about a hundred and sold for five cents the bundle. Many times you will find a month's good reading in one of these bundles. Come in and get one.

NEW ACTIVE VICE PRESIDENT

AT FIRST STATE BANK
V. N. Barnett arrived in Stonewall Tuesday to take up his duties as Active Vice President of the First State Bank. He has had wide experience in the banking business and will be a valuable addition to this institution.

Mr. Barnett was for a number of years associated with the Bank of Pontotoc, at Pontotoc, later going to Ada, where he was connected with the M. & P. bank. For the past four months he has been with the Bank of Francis.

His family will move to Stonewall within the next few weeks. The News joins in extending them a cordial welcome to Stonewall.—Stonewall News.

DEAR CUSTOMERS:

In order to give our patrons the service they require, each route wagon in the residential district must cover his trade in about five hours, or three hundred minutes—if he can make a delivery every two minutes, he can serve one hundred fifty customers, but he cannot possibly do this if the customers compel him to wait for change or for coupons, or for any other cause.

Won't you help him and us to give you and all of our customers good service by using coupons, and having them ready when ice is delivered so that the driver will not be delayed?

FRENCH GIVE OUT NEW TREATY TEXT

WILSON HOLDS ALLIANCE WITH FRANCE FOR DELIVERY—SECRETARY OF STATE LANSING OBSCURE.

PARIS, July 4.—The text of the proposed Anglo-French-American pact for the protection of France in case of a future attack on that country by Germany has been given out by the French foreign office and cabled to America by American newspaper correspondents virtually over the head of the American peace commission.

Secretary Lansing refused to authorize its publication, despite the semi-official promise to release it today. It had been asserted yesterday that only official British sanction was lacking to give the text of the pact to the world, and that sanction was expected today.

Meantime the French foreign office stole a march on both Britain and America, and American correspondents were quick to transmit the text to the United States.

The French action plainly placed Secretary Lansing in an embarrassing position, since he asserted emphatically this morning that he could not give his consent to the release. His explanation was that it would be discourteous to President Wilson and the United States senate to publish the text before it had been laid before that body by the president himself.

No Control Over Others.
When it was pointed out to him that the text of the peace treaty with Germany was finally officially released for publication in advance of its presentation to the senate, Mr. Lansing averred that was an entirely different case, because the senate had gone on record demanding the treaty's publication even before it was officially submitted by the president.

The French press hails the treaty with great enthusiasm. The hope is generally expressed that President Wilson will induce the American senate to ratify the pact without delay.

The mystery as regards Britain's attitude toward the treaty is intensified by the comment of L'Echo de Paris, which regrets that "Britain does not unqualifiedly propose military aid."

U. S. Bound More Than British.

WASHINGTON, July 4.—Some surprise was manifested here in some senatorial and diplomatic circles today that the United States should have bound itself even more strongly than Great Britain to go to the aid of France in the event that France should again be attacked by Germany or in the event of Germany failing to carry out the conditions of the treaty of Versailles.

In the American-French treaty it is agreed that the "United States will be bound to come to the aid of France immediately" while the Anglo-French agreement only says "England consents to come, etc."

Rural Carrier Examination.

The United States Civil Service Commission has announced an examination for the county of Pontotoc, Oklahoma, to be held at Ada on July 26, 1919, to fill the position of rural carrier at Stonewall and vacancies that may later occur on rural routes from other post offices in the above-mentioned county. The examination will be open only to citizens who are actually domiciled in the territory of a post office in the county and who meet the other requirements set forth in Form No. 1977. This form and application blanks may be obtained from the offices mentioned above or from the United States Civil Service Commission at Washington, D. C. Applications should be forwarded to the Commission at Washington at the earliest practicable date.

334 INVENTORS IN OKLAHOMA

GREAT VARIETY OF THINGS PATENTED IN LAST YEAR. NEGROES INVENT MANY DEVICES.

Oklahoma inventors can develop anything from a medicated chicken roost to an improved necktie adjuster according to annual invention reports just received from Washington by local patent attorneys.

Even negro mechanics from southern Oklahoma oil fields showed enough variety of ideas to outstrip eastern inventors.

In the last year 334 patents were granted to Oklahoma men, or an average of one to every 4,902 persons in the state, official reports returned to Fred W. Barnacio, patent attorney, show. These inventions covered a wider variety of fields than was touched by any other state.

Potatoes can boil a week in the same water without burning and the society housewife can put her cream in to churn, wind up the spring, go to a Saturday afternoon tea party, and return to find her butter worked out ready for market—all made possible by recent Oklahoma inventions.

The Shrinking Machine.
Patent papers have just been returned on an iron tire shrinkage machine, thought out, built, and put on the market by an Oklahoma City negro preacher.

Spring "clock" churns that make butter automatically, boiling pots, fed by a syphon device to prevent boiling dry, pineapple "shuckers," upholstered chicken roosts and nests that kill lice while the fowl sleeps, and automobile engine attachments that mix evaporated water with the gas to save fuel, are some of the latest novelties introduced from Oklahoma City.

Special skill and originality has been shown by negro farmers of the state who have schemed to avoid hard work. Machines have been invented to plant, chop, pick, and gin cotton all by simple labor-saving operations.

Because of the congested condition at the Washington office, an average of a year is required to get a patent through, Barnacio says. Out of 59,615 applications filed in 1918, 37,941 patents were granted.

A coated tongue, bad breath, dizziness and a clogged condition in the bowels can be quickly relieved by using Prickly Ash Bitters. It is pre-eminently efficient in such ailments. Price $1.25 per bottle.—Gwin & Mays Drug Co.

ARMY TO BE CUT TO PEACE BASIS

WASHINGTON, July 4.—Orders for the demobilization of the army by September 30, to the peace time strength of 233,308 officers and men authorized by the national defense act, were issued yesterday by the war department.

The national defense act authorized a total of 169,493 officers and men for the line and 63,815 officers and men for the staff corps and military departments. A reduction of these figures would be 100,000 men below the strength authorized in the 1920 army bill, but officials explain this reduction would be necessary to compensate for the heavy excess now existing over the total.

Announcement that the army would be reduced to less than 240,000 officers and men by September 30, was accepted here to mean that definite plans had been made to withdraw practically the entire American expeditionary force before many weeks.

Correction.

Tupelo, Okla., July 4, 1919.
Editor:—You will please correct a statement in the columns of the News a few days ago by publishing this as our reply and correction. The statement was to the effect "that J. C. McGhee was no longer Editor and Business Manager of the Landmark Baptist published at Tupelo. That the Board had discharged him and he had gone to California."

Such is absolute false. No such thoughts have ever entered our minds and we the board of directors in session June 30th, 1919, do denounce such as malicious and untrue and that your informant should bear the blame. And we respectfully ask you to publish this as our reply as a correction.—J. C. McGhee, Sec.; J. B. Baggett, Pres. NOTE—The News did not state that Rev. McGhee was discharged. It stated that Elvin Eads, editor of the Tupelo Tribune, published by the Landmark company, stated that Rev. McGhee had been removed. If the Rev. wants the author of the statement censured he will likely find Mr. Eads close at hand.

T. W. ROBISON HERE.

T. W. Robison, formerly superintendent of schools of Ada and now one of the big men in the Ford organization in Oklahoma, is in the city today. CHURCHES

St. Joseph's Catholic Church.
Mass will be held at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning at St. Joseph's Catholic church.

St. Luke's Episcopal Church.
109 East Fourteenth Street.
Rev. Franklin Davis, Rector.
Service tomorrow at the following hours:
Sunday School, 9:45.
Holy Communion at 11 o'clock.
No evening service.
You are cordially invited and assured a warm welcome.

First Baptist Sunday School.
We had 330 last Sunday and did not feel as badly disappointed because we realize the weather is awfully hot. But at the same time we are anxious to have 400 or more tomorrow. Let the parents come and bring the children. Let's make it a great day.

J. A. RIDLING, Supt.

First Baptist Church.
Sunday School will meet as usual at 9:45 a. m., with Superintendent Ridling in charge.
We are exceedingly anxious for a large attendance. We realize that the weather is warm, but we cannot afford to lag in Sunday attendance.

At the morning hour the pastor will preach on the subject "Winning to Christ." In this message the pastor will stress the personal effort in bringing people to Jesus. The B. Y. P. U. will meet at 7 o'clock instead of 7:45 and we want a large crowd of our young people present. Miss Pearl Wilmoth's group will be in charge and Miss Geneva Braly will be the leader.
There will be no service at our church at night, but everyone is urged to attend the union meeting at the Tabernacle, beginning promptly at 8 o'clock. Dean F. Erdman Smith of O. B. U., Shawnee, Okla., will speak and he is a speaker of remarkable ability. Several laymen will also speak.

CLYDE C. MORRIS, Pastor.

L. of J. Outing.

Tuesday afternoon the "L. of J." will enjoy a picnic outing at the lake. The plan is to meet at the church at 2 o'clock, and remain for supper. The boys' parents are going with them. All will meet at the First Christian church at 2 o'clock. The boys will have the pleasure of thinking out, while the parents and younger members of the families will ride. Boys and parents are asked to provide a way for those who have no automobiles of their own. Parents who can take others besides their own are asked to call up C. V. Dunn, and let him know how many others they can take, unless they have been already conferred with. Those who cannot come at 2 o'clock, but can come before supper time, are asked to come. It is hoped that as many as possible will meet at the church at 2 o'clock and go out then.

First Christian Church.

(Second Block, South Broadway)
The Beehive Bible School meets on Sunday morning at 9:45. There is no better way to spend an hour on Sunday morning at 9:45. There is no better way to spend an hour on Sunday morning than in a good Bible School. The singing, the study, the fellowship, all tend to better things.

Morning church worship opens at 11 o'clock. After a man has spent a busy week in the shop, the store, the factory, the office, or elsewhere; after a woman has spent a week clerking or typewriting, or book-keeping, or in the home, there is nothing better than to spend an hour in God's house, where the soul is fed on spiritual things, and preparation made for another and more day. The minister will preach on Sunday morning on the theme: "The New Testament, the First Christian Church, and the Co-operative Revival." Important matters will be dealt with in this sermon. Members especially are urged to be present, and everyone is cordially welcome.

The regular monthly meeting of the elders and deacons will be held in the church in the afternoon at 3 o'clock. Every elder and deacon is asked to be present.
In the evening the church will unite with others in the meeting at the tabernacle. This meeting will begin at 8 o'clock. Every member of the church is asked to make use of the opportunity to enjoy this meeting. A large audience is expected. There will be a fine song service, and singers of the First Christian church are asked to be there and help.

8:30. Let all members be present and bring some one with you. This will be our last meeting until the Ham-Ramsay revival is over. One among our speakers tonight will be Grandfather Crutchfield. Let us all come in an attitude of prayer. Fathers and mothers are especially invited.—Leader.

Court House News

When the court house reporter called on Mayor Kitchens this morning and asked what was new, the mayor replied, "Nothing." The mayor said it was the quietest Fourth he had ever known.

The reporter then called on Mr. Swaffar at the tax collector's office and asked what was new. Mr. Swaffar replied, "Nothing."

From Mr. Swaffar the reporter went to Milton Garner, County Clerk and got the same reply, "Nothing." The next in line to answer the question was Nick Heard, tax assessor, who said, "Nothing."

After this vain search the reporter remarked to himself that the prospects for some live reading matter for today's issue of this great American Guide were somewhat dim, but that maybe when he went upstairs at the court house he would find things "different."

The first man accosted upstairs was Justice Brown, who replied to the reporter's question for something new with "Nothing."

After Judge Brown, Judge Anderson was approached. His reply was "Nothing."

By this time the reporter was growing weary, but he continued his search believing that soon he would find enough news from a single person to make up for all the blanks. He then went to the office of the County Superintendent. Miss Sadie Edmiston was in the office and when asked what she knew after the Fourth she replied in her customary sweet smiling manner, "Nothing."

The reporter then went to Miss Rowena Moore in the office of the county judge. When the reporter explained to her that news consisted of information not already known to the general public and that she must help him out by giving him some of that news, she replied that he had come to the wrong place, that she knew "absolutely nothing."

The reporter then went to the Recording Angel, Miss Jessie Rogers, in the court clerk's office. He felt certain that Miss Rogers would pull him out of his predicament and tell him out of his gossip to be sent on its rounds. Miss Rogers had had a glorious Fourth, but as far as furnishing any item interesting to the public was concerned she knew "Nothing."

By this time the reporter was frantic. Was it some joke they were all playing? Had they gone into cahoots to keep him from informing the long suffering public of the excitement of the Fourth? Were they all tired of seeing him appear at their several offices daily on his quest for information and had they decided to try to stop his meal ticket by withholding the information sought? Surely no such combine could be entered into by the agreeable people who make up the public officials of Pontotoc county and Ada. But to make sure that they were not playing a trick on him he would go to the sheriff's office and get a whole column of news, to offset any idea of such treatment.

The reporter entered the sheriff's office with an air of expectancy. He found there Sheriff Duncan gazing into space through the south window. Undersheriff Kennedy had his feet propped upon the table, his hands folded back of his head and cracking jokes with Judge Arden L. Bullock. The reporter spoke with a "Good morning, gentlemen," and asked, "What's new?" "Mr. Duncan spoke first and said, "Nothing." Then Mr. Kennedy added, "Nothing," and the sheriff repeated "Nothing" in a lower tone. Judge Bullock simply smiled.

At this point the reporter decided he was wrong, that they were not trying to play him a trick. He saw the thing in a new light and concluded that Ada and Pontotoc county had just had a glorious Fourth. And it was so glorious that nobody tried to give trouble to anybody else or to themselves. The several "nothings" go to show that we have a great citizenship, and that it is better to make a report like this than one in which the day was celebrated in outlaw fashion.

This is the longest article this reporter ever wrote about "nothing."

Wednesday evening from 6 until 8, Little Hazel Taylor of Center entertained in honor of her sixth birthday. Games were the order of the evening and after they all seemed tired and fatigued, they were called in and ice cream and cake were served from a table decorated with sweet peas and honeysuckle.

There was quite a crowd present, among them being Evelyn Wilson, Genell Small, Cecil Felton, Cleo and Wilma Laughlin, Gordon Copeland, Dot Copeland, Beena Austell, Max Gatlin, Agnes Land, Leon Davis, and her little cousin, Maxine Taylor of Ada. All reported a good time and wished birthdays came more often.

Notice, Singers!

All singers of the churches are urged to be present at the Tabernacle Sunday evening at 8 o'clock, promptly, to help in the song service. Please go directly to the choir platform. Miss Keller, Chairman guy," remarked the referee over the ropes to the operators.

DEMPESEY WINS IN THREE ROUNDS

Meanwhile the thermometer had receded to 118 at 2 p. m., but the announcement created no enthusiasm. The boxers were dripping with perspiration, and Malone, with the deliberation of a man reaching for a familiar keyhole, continued to land ugly jabs. Ralston took them on the glove if he could, or in the face, if he could not, while the referee grumbled. Ralston was all in at the end and the decision went to Malone.

The Fight by Rounds.

First Round.

Willard landed the first blow, a light left to the head. The champion landed a right and left to the head. Dempsey hooked a left to Willard's stomach. Dempsey missed a left and right to the head. Willard snapped a left to the jaw. Dempsey knocked Willard down with a right to the jaw twice. The champion took a count of six each time and when he got up Dempsey knocked him down with lefts and rights to the jaw. The challenger tore into the champion and knocked him down for the third time, flooring him with rights and lefts to the chin.

Second Round.

Dempsey rushed Willard in his corner, pounding his jaw with rights and lefts. The champion's right eye was closing from the blows. Dempsey landed. Dempsey walked around Willard carefully measuring him with rights and lefts to the jaw. Willard seemed dazed. Dempsey hit three lefts to the bad eye. Willard landed a feeble uppercut. Dempsey's eye was rapidly closing. Dempsey had to be called back into the ring for the second round because he thought he had won the fight. Willard staggered to his corner at the end of the second round.

Third Round.

Dempsey hit Willard twice with lefts to the jaw. Dempsey sent right to the jaw and left to the body. Dempsey peppered lefts to Willard's jaw without a return. Dempsey backed the champion to the rope and hammered him with lefts and rights to the jaw and body. Dempsey hit a right and left to the head and had the blood streaming from the champion's mouth. Willard landed a stinging uppercut to Dempsey's jaw and Dempsey retaliated with a left to the jaw, although Dempsey hit the champion with right and left to the jaw as the bell rang.

MRS. MORRISON WILL SING

All Heartily Welcome

Little-Roff.

Quite a surprise to their many friends, was the wedding of Mr. Charles H. Little and Miss Edith Roff, of Roff, Oklahoma, which was solemnized at the home of the Methodist minister in Sulphur, Oklahoma, Friday evening, 8 o'clock. Rev. Mayberry performing the ceremony.

Mr. Little and Miss Roff were attending a house party given at the home of Mrs. C. G. White of Sulphur when this romance of only a few weeks' duration was brought to a culmination.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Roff which is one of the oldest and best established families of Roff, Miss Edith having been born and reared at that place. She is a very talented young lady, having been a student of the O. C. W. at Chickasha for the past year, where she was a pledged member of the Beta Sigma Omicron sorority. Miss Roff was also a student in Hardin College, Mexico City, Mo., one year prior to her entrance to the O. C. W.

The groom is well known and liked among the younger set of this city, he having come here in March, as a discharged soldier, since which time he has been employed by the American Oil and Refining company. His parents live in Corpus Christi, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Little will be at home to their friends for an indefinite length of time at the home of Mrs. C. C. McKeel, 117 East Tenth.

FAMOUS CHARACTER SICK IN HOSPITAL

Old Dragus, the trouble-shooting car at Grant Ivin's Garage, has been forced to go to the auto hospital. The extreme summer heat brought about a general collapse, and it will perhaps be a couple of days before Old Dragus is again able to function. 7-5-1

The "Christ of the Andes" is a large monument standing 14,500 feet above the sea level on the Argentine-Chilean frontier, erected to commemorate a peace treaty between the two countries and dedicated March 13, 1904. Above the base of the monument is a granite sphere weighing fourteen tons, resting on a granite column, and on the sphere is outlined a map of the world. The figure of Christ is of bronze, 26 feet in height, while a cross in the left hand is five feet higher. The right hand is outstretched in blessing. On a tablet at the base is the following inscription: "Sooner shall these mountains crumble into dust than Argentines and Chileans break the peace to which they have pledged themselves at the foot of Christ, the Redeemer."
